By SPENCE HELD

Dr. Frank B. Wisner, of 4932 Newport Ave., walked into his waiting room the other day and encountered an unusual patient.

A monkey was sitting on the davenport waiting for the doctor. . . . No other patients were present and Dr. Wisner gave the monkey his immediate attention.

The diagnosis: Fugitivism. The back door had been left open, inadvertently, and the monkey just sashayed in and took a seat. He didn't want to leave, either, but his owner (a woman) retrieved him in short order.

George A. Leonard, 71-year-old Point Loma grocer, used a suction cup "plumber's friend" to beat off two young bandits Saturday night.

Reminds me of the time a police bicycle patrolman encountered two burglars in my father's grocery store at Park Blvd. and El Cajon Ave. during the 1920's.

The patrolman saw a light in the store along about midnight. He pushed open the back door and took a rap on the noggin from a tire iron. . . . He blasted his assailant with a .45; the other bandit clicked an empty shotgun at him and then ran for the front of the store.

He leaped through the plate glass window just as the patrolman plugged him. Score: One dead, one wounded.

Several Peninsula residents are "tuning up" their antique autos for the annual caravan of horseless carriages from L. A. to S.D. and return this weekend.

Among the first to register were Mr. and Mrs. John Ogden, of 2929 Chatsworth Blvd., with a 1915 Stevens Duryea, and Nick Fintelberg, 730 Golden Park, driving a 1909 Brush runabout.

Approximately 60 vintage cars will participate in the tour which includes Cabrillo National Monument.

Significant quotes: Dr. Norbert Rieger, Camarillo State Hospital—"The strain of driving among hurtling traffic is even greater than that faced by pioneer families traveling in covered wagons and fighting Indians."

"Deacon" Dan Towler, Pasadena, former pro football player, now pastor, on value of sports—"There is growth for the individual in the experience of teamwork with men of all creeds, of all races, from widely different backgrounds."

Robert Coudy, Glendale—"Gentle-sounding names like 'litterbugs' applied to those who make trash cans of our streets and highways should be replaced with the possibly uncouth but more descriptive 'slob.'"

Ann Landers, family problems columnist—"Money is the most over-rated of all considerations. You can buy delightful food, but not an appetite—wonderful parties, but not a loyal friend."

Final Fishoff In Yellowtail Derby Sept. 21

Preparing to ring down the curtain on the final qualifying period of the $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby this Saturday, aspiring contestants in the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored angling classic made the scales fly this week in last minute efforts to bag a 30-pound or heavier yellowtail, albacore, or bluefin tuna.

With daily catches of yellowtail consistently hitting above the 1000 mark and often half as high again, there seemed some likelihood that minimum qualifying weight would go above 30 pounds.

Fishoff day for the 150 eligibles in the final period who will vie for a station wagon and other major prizes will be Saturday, Sept. 21.

Present pace setter in the final derby period is Richard Brown, Long Beach, who bagged a 44 pound 4 ounce albacore Aug. 22 south of the Coronado Islands.

Top qualifier from the Ocean Beach-Point Loma sector at the moment is Bert Hebner, 415 Rosecrans, who bagged a 35 pound 12 ounce albacore to snatch the top qualifying prize two weeks ago.

For the season, the Betty-Lou has a total of approximately 11,000, Vance said.

Services Held For Don Ellison

Funeral services for Donald Dean Ellison, 27, an astronautics employee at Convair and student at California Western University, were held Sept. 3 at Bonham Brothers Mortuary. The Rev. John Atwood of Pt. Loma Methodist Church officiated. Interment was at Ft. Rosecrans National Cemetery.

Ellison, son of Mrs. Alyce Ellison, 4659 Voltaire St., was killed instantly the night of Aug. 29 when his car was struck in the rear while he was southbound on Highway 395 south of Genesee St., near Linda Vista.

Police said Ellison's car was struck by an auto driven at 80 or 90 miles an hour by Robert A. Wrigley, 30, a sailor of Miramar Naval Air Station. Police quoted Wrigley as saying he had four or five beers at Miramar before the accident.

The sailor's car was swerving "all over the road" when it passed a witness north of the accident scene, the latter told police.

Ellison's car rolled off the right side of the road for 350 feet. It stopped nose down in a canyon. Ellison was "strapped inside with a seat belt."

Wrigley was taken to Naval Hospital with serious injuries. His car, after hitting Ellison's auto, struck the center island and landed upside down on the east side of the highway.

Born in Chicago, Ellison had made his home here with his mother since completing his Army enlistment in 1953.

Rinse Takes Static From Synthetic Fabrics

BY EDNA MILES

MOST homemakers are in love with man-made fabrics. These drip-dry timesavers make housekeeping easier, quicker and much more efficient. They cut down greatly on the load of family ironing each week and make it possible for a soiled garment to be clean and in service again within a couple of hours.

But most homemakers are also familiar with the problem of slits that cling, shirts and sweaters that crackle and spark when they come in contact with metal in the form of typewriters, desks and cars.

To solve this problem, one manufacturer has developed a new product in liquid form which is simply added to the last tub of rinse water. According to the maker, this new product makes all man-made fabrics static-free. The reason for this is that most of the newer synthetics shed water quickly (which is why they drip-dry so fast). Therefore, there's no moisture left after they're washed. And there's no "path" of water to carry away the charge of "electricity." The charge remains in the dry fabric and causes that annoying cling.

The new fabric softener coats the surface of the fibers and is retained by them so that even when clothes are dried in an automatic dryer they are static-free.

It can be used for drapes, slip covers and car covers as well as for clothing.

This homemaker adds a new liquid fabric softener to the last rinse of her laundry. Maker says it eliminates static from man-made fabrics.

Red Cross Needs Pocket Novels

Several thousand pocket novels and games are needed by Red Cross to fill requests for hospitalized servicemen and men on outgoing ships according to Mrs. Fred Varick, Entertainment and Supply chairman of the local chapter.

"There is a year-round demand for reading material," Mrs. Varick said. "Pocket novels are most frequently requested and if we can pass along the books which have been read and enjoyed, they can serve a double purpose."

Mrs. Varick said that novels should be mailed to or left at San Diego County Chapter Red Cross headquarters, 3650 Fifth Ave.

COUNTRY PLAYERS

LES CARROLL

OF late more and more country music artists are recording "pop-billy" and "rocka-billy" numbers and widening their fan appeal.

Faron Young's "Moonlight Mountain" (Capitol) should add to his succession of hits, and Jim Reeves' "Young Hearts" and "Two Shadows on Your Window" (RCA) are good follow-ups to his "Four Walls." Marvin Rainwater, whose "Gonna Find Me a Bluebird" was so successful, follows with "My Love Is Real" and "My Brand of Blues" (MGM).

Melvin Endsley has a double-barreled entry in "Lonely All Over Again" and "Keep a-Lovin' Me, Baby" and Eddie Arnold's "Crazy Dream" and "Open Your Heart" should ride high (both RCA). Al Terry does very well with "Late Date" (Hickory) and Les York has two appealing sides in "I'll Cry Again Tomorrow" and "River of No Return" (Sage).

The girl artists are also shining in this field. Nita, Rita and Ruby do a fine arrangement of Marty Robbins' sequel to "White Sport Coat"—"You Came to the Prom" Alone" while Janis Martin has two especially fine sides in "Love and Kisses" and "I'll Never Be Free" (both RCA).

In the old-time style Don Reno and Red Smiley give a good rendition of "Never Get to Hold You in My Arms Anymore" (King). The Browns' "I Heard the Bluebirds Sing" and "The Last Thing I Want" are catching (RCA) and Danny Richards has a nice ballad number in "Last Curtain" (Sage). Joe Carson (Capitol) also does a nice love ballad, "Crazy Dream" backed with the pretty "Take Me In Your Arms."

In the sacred field, Carl Story's quartet sings "Got a Lot to Tell My Jesus" (Mercury) and the Louvin Brothers harmonize beautifully in "Praying" and "There's No Excuse" (Capitol).

A new LP by Eddie Dean, "Hi-Country," features 18 great new Western songs never before recorded (Sage), and the Sons of the Pioneers' Album, "One Man's Songs" feature hit numbers written by the late Fred Rose (RCA).

OTHER GOOD RELEASES are "Doggone Lonesome Blues" (Bobby Bobo, Sage); "Geisha Girl" (Hank Locklin, RCA); "Lovin' You" (Eddie Bond, Mercury); "Again" (Jimmie Williams, MGM); and "The Livin' End" (Bobby Bare, Capitol). And two good five-string banjo instrumentals are Carl Story's "Banjo on the Mountain" (Mercury) and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" (Reno and Smiley, King).

WEBB TAKES BASIC AT TRAINING CENTER

Samuel Stewart Webb, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Webb, Sr. of 1151 Willow St., is undergoing basic training at the Naval Training Center. Webb was graduated from Point Loma High School in June. He was enlisted under the Navy's high school airman recruit program, and intends to become a Navy photographer and make photography his career.

Artist's conception of the new theatre center to be built on Torrey Pines Mesa, overlooking Scripps Institution of Oceanography, north of La Jolla and just south of the junction of U. S. 101 and Torrey Pines Road. The entire complex consists of an 850-seat theatre, work and paint shops, a symposium hall, drama school and restaurant planned to meet the entertainment and cultural needs of San Diego County. Design is by La Jolla Architects Robert Mosher and Roy Drew in collaboration with famed New York theatrical designer, Jo Mielzner. Landscaping will be by Thomas Church, San Francisco landscape architect. It is to be built by the Theatre and Arts Foundation of San Diego, a non-profit, Federal tax exempt corporation. A drive to raise $1,500,000 with which to build and maintain the theatre, heart of the project, is now under way.

HEALTH FOR ALL

A year or more in the hospital. That's what people with tuberculosis had to face only a few years back. Imagine yourself faced with that prospect and you'll understand how the TB patient of today feels when he hears words like streptomycin, para-aminosalicylic acid and isoniazid.

Those words are mouthfuls, all right, but he doesn't have to pronounce them. He only has to swallow them. They are the modern drugs that mean the TB patient of today can usually go home after only a few months in the hospital.

The shortening of the hospital stay for TB is probably the greatest advance in tuberculosis treatment in recent years—certainly from the patient's point of view. A few months away from home isn't too hard to face. You don't lose contact with home and family and friends. The children still know you when you come home.

Of course, you can't come and pitch right in to hard work.

You have to take it easy, follow the doctor's orders and take your pills. Otherwise, you may find yourself back in the hospital in more serious condition than when you were first there. This puts a lot of responsibility on the patient. You have to behave like an adult for your own sake and for the protection of your family.

The fact that TB patients on the whole can now leave the hospital sooner has benefited the whole community. Only a few years ago there were too few hospitals to house TB patients. Many had to wait for months to get a bed. Old and outmoded facilities had to be maintained. New hospitals were needed in many areas.

Today, for the first time in history, there are enough beds for tuberculosis patients in almost every part of our country. The turnover is greater as patients are being discharged to their homes earlier. It has been possible to close down some of the old sanatoriums or convert them to other uses. Modern treatment of TB has meant better treatment for more TB patients.

Milestones in Medicine

by Marguerite Clark

For the nation's most prevalent disease—the common cold—there is no real means of prevention. Millions of dollars are spent each year in developing vaccines to immunize against America's sniffles. The common cold, however, is not caused by one virus, but by many. And until a vaccine is developed that contains all the viruses, the yearly cold epidemics will continue.

For the country's second most prevalent ailment—tooth decay—there is better news. Dental researchers, training a mammoth battery of up-to-date scientific equipment on America's one billion dental cavities, have discovered some of the secrets of tooth decay and what can be done about it.

Under a giant electron microscope, experimental teeth are scrutinized by dental experts to find out which chemicals in modern dentifrices act best to prevent tooth decay. One of these is stannous fluoride, found in one of our newest toothpastes. By strengthening tooth enamel against decay, the stannous fluoride helps teeth to last a lifetime.

Bible Comment:

What Does It Profit a Man to Gain the World?

WE know a man who does not pursue honesty as merely the best policy, but who is honest even if it is not to his own best interests. He speaks out of the voice of experience, as a father of sons to whom he is determined to set a good example.

He said that he had noticed, where men became wealthy and prosperous dishonestly, that though they apparently didn't suffer, the consequences upon their sons and other members of their families were often disastrous.

What does a grafting or dishonest father gain if he becomes wealthy and attains a sort of success only to find that his sons seek to emulate his success through the crookedness that made it? What does he do when he sees them going down to ruin in a worldly as well as a spiritual way because of the false heritage he has given them?

Think of what is happening in the world as our friend has thought about it. Take a long-range view and see if the voices of wisdom aren't right when they whisper that human welfare is linked with honesty and right choice.

"The path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." This rich and beautiful figure brings to mind this saying, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." It is in our will, the inner choice backed by good judgment, that our destiny rests.

To set before oneself the goal of good living, the way of honor and decency, is to be worldly wise as well as spiritually sound. Even where men have to make great sacrifices to keep their integrity, honesty is justified. For what comfort or gain is there for any man to realize that what he has won has been won at the cost of himself?
